INTRODUCTION

PURPOSE

This is a year-end performance report concerning the City of Cedar Rapids' Consolidated Planning effort during FY12 (the fiscal period from July 1, 2012 through June 30, 2013). It reports on the progress of implementing projects and activities federally funded by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) through the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) and HOME Investment Partnership Program (HOME); entitlement awards that the City receives annually.

GOALS

There are three broad basic goals associated with such expenditure of federal funds for Consolidated Planning efforts - each of which must primarily benefit low and very low income persons:

- Provide Decent Housing. Assist the homeless, retain affordable housing stock, increase availability of permanent housing, increase supportive housing for persons with special need, and refrain from discrimination.
- Provide a Suitable Living Environment. Improve the safety and livability of neighborhoods, increase access to quality facilities and services, reduce the isolation of income groups, revitalize deteriorating neighborhoods, restore/preserve features of special value for historic, architectural, or aesthetic reasons, and conserve energy resources.
- Expand Economic Opportunities. Create jobs, provide access for credit, and empower people in federally assisted and public housing to achieve self-sufficiency.

COORDINATION AND ADMINISTRATION

The City's Community Development Department is responsible for coordination of consolidated planning efforts in association with funding awarded through the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) and HOME Investment Partnership Program (HOME).

The direct administration of all CDBG and HOME projects and activities is the responsibility of the Housing Services Division of the City's Community Development Department. These projects and activities are carried out by non-profit agencies and other City departments acting as sub-recipients. The preparation of this report is also the responsibility of the Housing Services Division.

Housing Services works with partners such as the Linn County Continuum of Care Planning and Policy Council and the City of Cedar Rapids Civil Rights Department to facilitate the coordination and reporting of related activities within the context of the Consolidated Planning effort.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

During the FY12 program year, the City of Cedar Rapids expended $1,559,856.12 in CDBG funds and $312,555 in HOME funds. CDBG activities assisted 17,188 individuals and 48 households based upon PR03 reporting and internal tracking. HOME activities completed during FY12 assisted 44 owner households based upon PR23 reporting and internal tracking.

Federal regulations require that 70% of CDBG funds expended must benefit low to moderate income residents of Cedar Rapids. The City of Cedar Rapids calculated this benefit on annual basis. For the FY12 program year, 100% of CDBG funds expended by the City have benefited low to moderate income residents.

SUMMARY OF RESOURCES AND DISTRIBUTION OF FUNDS

The following tables summarize the CDBG and HOME funds available, committed, and expended for programs that further the goals of the Consolidated Plan in FY12:

FIVE YEAR PLAN ASSESSMENT OF PROGRESS

FIVE YEAR GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

In May 2010, the City of Cedar Rapids submitted its Consolidated Plan Five-Year Strategy for the period of July 1, 2010 through June 30, 2015. The Consolidated Plan identifies the needs in the community, and then outlines the City's goals and objectives to meeting these needs over the next five years. The following narrative illustrates how these goals and objectives were addressed through CDBG and HOME funded projects and activities during the City's FY 2012 Program Year. The City's FY12 activity is listed after the appropriate goal and objective, as stated in the City's Strategic Plan section of the Consolidated Plan.

Please see Tables 10A-D – Summary of CDBG Assisted Projects and Table 11 – FY12 HOME Program Projects Including Prior Year Carryovers for more detailed information concerning how these activities helped to fulfill priority housing needs, priority community development needs, annual housing completion goals, and specific annual objectives.

HOUSING GOALS

Types of Programs:

- Rent Subsidy
- Existing Rehabilitation
- First-time Home Buyers
- New Development

In the area of affordable housing, the City will make intensive use of the existing stock of housing through rental assistance, rehabilitation, and first-time home buyer strategies. The retention of the existing housing stock provides the best opportunity for affordable housing, while fostering neighborhood stability and the efficient use of existing infrastructure. As needed, expansion of stock will be used to also address opportune targeted income/affordability areas (as may be associated with "in-fill" redevelopment efforts).

HOUSING ACTIVITIES

In FY12, the City of Cedar Rapids assisted a total of 45 households through its owner-occupied rehabilitation activity and 42 first time homebuyers received down payment assistance to purchase a home.

The City also newly funded housing activities while continuing some carryover projects including:

- One carryover project for rehabilitation of one CDBG core neighborhood home by Cedar Valley Habitat for Humanity for one low- to moderate-income household was completed. One newly funded rehabilitation project for the Cedar Valley Habitat for Humanity in a core neighborhood for one low- to moderate-income household was also completed.

- Housing rehabilitation for seniors so that they can age in place by Aging Services, Inc assisting 2 low- to moderate-income households from the FY11 grant and then 1 additional low – to moderate-income household from the FY12 grant with additional rehabilitation underway.
- Funding for the Affordable Housing Network, Inc. to rehabilitate four single-family housing units for the purpose of providing affordable, safe, and sanitary rental units in a core Cedar Rapids neighborhood, with the project underway.

PUBLIC FACILITIES GOALS

Types of Programs:

- Public Facilities and Improvements
- Handicapped Centers
- Neighborhood Facilities
- Park and Recreations Facilities
- Solid Waste Disposal Improvements
- Fire Stations and Equipment
- Health Facilities
- Asbestos Removal
- Cleanup of Contaminated Sites
- Interim Assistance
- Non-Residential Historic Preservation

The City will assist with the renovation and expansion of all facilities and community centers which are accessible to all residents, as needed to serve health and safety needs with enhancement of amenities for social and recreational interaction.

PUBLIC FACILITIES ACTIVITIES

The City funded one new facility improvement project for FY12 while continuing with several FY11 improvement projects :

- A new project to rehabilitate the Henry Davison Youth Center that serves youth in the area with before and after school programs, holiday meals, and various other programs to serve disadvantaged youth.
- Completion of the repair of bathroom at main facility roof at the Catherine McAuley Center which houses their transitional housing program and ESL education program.
- Completion of the replacement of the deficient HVAC system at the Foundation 2 Crisis Center which houses the 24-hour crisis line, after-hours food pantry, mobile crisis outreach, walk-in counseling and therapy services.
- Progress on the repair of deteriorated roof and drainage improvements at Kingston Hill, which is a senior housing facility.
- Progress on the second phase of repair of deteriorated roof for Waypoint Services facility that provides services and case management to homeless women and children.

PUBLIC SERVICES GOALS

Types of Programs

- Services for Seniors, Youth, and the Handicapped
- Legal Services
- Transportation Services
- Substance Abuse Services
- Employment Training
- Health Services

- Mental Health Services
- Screening for Lead-Based Paint/Lead Hazards

The City will continue to support a variety of public services, ranging from meeting basic needs to achieving self-sufficiency. Priority needs include senior and youth services, transportation, substance abuse, and lead-based paint testing/screening/treatment. Enhanced accessibility targeting transit dependent populations is essential to ensure all residents may travel to work and other facilities (as are other mobility concerns specific to the elderly and handicapped). The provision of substance abuse and mental services are needed to assist individuals and families with emotional stability and good health. Lead-based paint initiatives will be pursued by testing for both presence and exposed hazards within at-risk properties, as well as screening/treating resultant blood-poisoning within children. Continued support will be given to the Chamber of Commerce to enhance employment, and other community agencies to address health needs.

The City will assist community efforts to expand and enhance facilities and services that address the needs of senior citizens including health care, nutrition, recreation, transportation, and other activities that sustain assisted/independent living with dignity, including elder protective services to prevent abuse and fraud, assist bill paying with counseling for other financial matters, and provide substitute decision-makers. These services reinforce independent living by meeting the physical and social needs of seniors and reduce expenses for costly long-term care.

The City will help address the problems of child care, nutrition, education, job training, crime/abuse prevention, recreation, transportation, gang induction, and drug addiction among its youth through expansion and enhancement of developmental facilities and services. Special attention will be given to young persons who are victims or otherwise at risk due to inadequate supervision and guidance. A preventive approach is preferred in order to avoid problems from occurring for susceptible youth during their developmental growth. That is especially true when otherwise exposed within an at-risk environment which, if untreated, will surely compound into a larger (and more costly) dilemma.

PUBLIC SERVICES ACTIVITIES

The City supported a number of public service including:

- Big Brothers/Big Sisters – One-To-One Mentoring: serving 9 high-risk students in low-income areas of Cedar Rapids.
- Boys and Girls Club – Youth Development: provided after school and summer programs to 385 youth.

- Ecumenical Community Center – CompuPlace: staff expenses for director of computer lab for adults and children with disabilities. Includes the use of computers, adaptive devices, and software. 122 people were served.

- HACAP – Transitional Housing Services – provided supportive services care management to 202 people. Provided safe, decent, and stable housing to allow families to attain self-sufficiency and permanent housing.
- Heritage Area Agency on Aging – Money Management Program: salaries and expenses for program to assist low income senior citizens with taking care of their finances. Twenty-five senior citizens were assisted.

- Fair Housing
- Administration of CDBG, HOME, and other publicly assisted programs/services

Cedar Rapids will continue to plan comprehensively for community change with accommodation given to the importance of maintaining and enhancing the quality and stability of existing neighborhoods. Cedar Rapids will provide administrative capacity for effective and efficient implementation of programs including, as appropriate, supportive service and capacity-building assistance for non-profit entities such as community housing development organizations (CHDO's).

PLANNING AND ADMINISTRATION ACTIVITIES

The City engaged in a variety of planning activities associated with implementation of the HOME and CDBG Programs, including:

- Housing Services – Administrative Overhead – funding used for overhead costs including rent, office supplies, reproduction, travel, and training.

- Housing Services – Administrative Staff – staff funded for time and attendance incurred.
- Housing Services – Neighborhood Planning – Funding for neighborhood planning activities in the core CDBG areas.

NOTE ON PLANNING AND ADMINISTRATION ACTIVITIES NARRATIVE

The above narrative discusses the specific efforts directly funded through the City's CDBG entitlement grant. The City, however, is not able to utilize CDBG funding to address all of the goals and objectives listed in the Consolidated Plan Five-Year Strategy. One reason is that certain activities may be administered by other agencies without need for CDBG monies. For example, due to a strong partnership between the City and the Cedar Rapids Area Chamber of Commerce, reliance is primarily placed on that entity's Priority One division for economic development initiatives directed toward job creation and retention. The success of their effort, and other available incentives, has demonstrated there is presently no demand for the allocation of CDBG funds for otherwise eligible economic development activities. Another reason is that the City may not receive requests to fund activities in each one of the needs categories in a given program year. This could be a result of various factors, such as a decline in overall need or an alternative source of funding.

Please see Tables 11A–D – Summary of CDBG Assisted Projects and Table 11 – FY12 HOME Program Projects Including Prior Year Carryovers in the Appendix for more detailed information concerning how these activities helped to fulfill priority housing needs, priority community development needs, annual housing completion goals and specific annual objectives.

ASSESSMENT OF ANNUAL PROGRESS

Affirmatively Further Fair Housing

HUD PUBLISHES NEW PROPOSED RULE ON AFFIRMATIVELY FURTHERING FAIR HOUSING

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) published a new proposed rule to Affirmatively Further Fair Housing (AFFH) in the Federal Register on July 19, 2013 and made available background materials and a prototype geospatial tool. AFFH refers to the 1968 Fair Housing Act's obligation for state and local governments to improve and achieve more meaningful outcomes from fair housing policies, so that every American has the right to fair housing, regardless of their race, color, national origin, religion, sex, disability or familial status.

"This proposed rule represents a 21st century approach to fair housing, a step forward to ensuring that every American is able to choose to live in a community they feel proud of – where they have a fair shot at reaching their full potential in life," said HUD Secretary Shaun Donovan. "For the first time ever, HUD will provide data for every neighborhood in the country, detailing the access African American, Latino, Asian, and other communities have to local assets, including schools, jobs, transportation, and other important neighborhood resources that can play a role in helping people move into the middle class. Long-term solutions will involve various strategies, such as helping people gain access to different neighborhoods and channeling investments into underserved areas."

The proposed rule was drafted in response to a 2010 GAO report and numerous requests from stakeholders, advocates, and HUD program participants seeking clear guidance and technical assistance. The proposed rule refines existing requirements so the individuals, organizations, and state and local governments implementing HUD programs better understand their requirements under the Fair Housing Act and have the tools they need to Affirmatively Further Fair Housing, ensuring that every American has the opportunity to live in the community of their choice without facing discrimination.

Under the proposed new rule, HUD will provide program participants with:

- A more clearly articulated definition of what it means to affirmatively further fair housing;
- An assessment template that replaces the current, loosely defined Analysis of Impediments;
- Nationally uniform data and a geospatial tool; and
- Clear guidance and technical assistance.

As part of a larger, locally-driven assessment process with public input, the data and guidance will provide an invaluable starting point as communities work to better understand their fair housing barriers and establish clear goals. Goals developed in the assessment process will connect to investment plans at the local and state levels where communities will outline their strategies. HUD anticipates that the new AFFH rule will empower local decision-making and foster smart government and better housing policies. The new rule will also better fulfill the aims of the Fair Housing Act through this proposed AFFH process rooted in data and integrated into other planning processes.

As part of the rule making process, members of the public will have an opportunity to review the proposed AFFH rule and submit their thoughts, comments or questions via Regulations.gov. The public comment period will last for 60 days starting on Friday July 19th.

The Cedar Rapids Civil Rights Commission sponsors informational sessions throughout the year to support fair housing. The sessions are held at offices, schools, and other locations around the community. Donald/Donna the Anti-Discriminatory Dolphin also visits children in pre-school through second grade and makes other appearances in the community. He/She performs a skit about fair housing and passes out books and other handouts that present fair housing information to children in a fun and educational way. The hope is that the children will understand discrimination and fair housing and be excited enough to take the information home to their parents.

The Cedar Rapids Civil Rights Commission expanded its coverage to include the city of Marion and launched a city-wide transit media campaign to inform citizens about Fair Housing Laws and how to report violations.

The Cedar Rapids Civil Rights Commission has also established several partnerships with community stakeholders to support Fair Housing initiatives. A major initiative of the Friends of the Cedar Rapids Civil Rights Commission, a fully recognized 501(c)3 organization, has been the development of a Youth Advisory Board to help educate high school youth about the need to understand civil rights, including fair housing in our community.

In May 2010, the City of Cedar Rapids' Civil Rights Commission received the Analysis of Impediments (AI) to Fair Housing Choice that was prepared by J-Quad Planning Group. This report provides an AI for the City of Cedar Rapids, Iowa prepared during program year 2009 - 2010. This AI was conducted using a methodology consistent with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) guidelines. HUD requires that each jurisdiction receiving federal funds certify that it is affirmatively furthering fair housing by conducting an analysis of impediments to fair housing choice within the state or local jurisdiction, taking appropriate actions to overcome the effects of any impediments identified through that analysis and maintaining records reflecting the analysis and actions in this regard.

In January 2012, the City of Cedar Rapids approved changes to the Cedar Rapids Civil Rights Commission's Ordinance to include two new protected classes: Familial Status and Marital Status. The Ordinance now covers Age, Color, Creed, Mental or Physical Disability, Familial Status, Gender Identity, Marital Status, National Origin, Race, Religion, Sex (gender), or Sexual Orientation in the areas of Employment, Education, Public Accommodations, Credit, and Housing.

The Cedar Rapids Civil Rights Commission and The John Marshall Law School ("JMLS") entered into an agreement on March 23, 2012 that provided for JMLS to assist the Commission with training and further development of its fair housing testing program. Under the contract JMLS provided supervision and consultations with respect to a total of 20 matched disability tests for accessibility and acceptance of support and companion animals in disability cases.

REAL ESTATE IMPEDIMENTS

Impediment: Inadequate supply of affordable housing.

Issues: According to the Census estimates, Cedar Rapids had 58,443 housing units in 2008. Historically, there were 52,169 housing units located within Cedar Rapids based on 2000 Census. Of the total number of housing units reported in 2000, 35,659 (68.36%) were single family units, 14,211 (27.24%) were multifamily units, and the remaining 2,299 (4.4%) units were other types of units. Despite its increase, Cedar Rapids has reported that the floods of 2008 impacted 7,198 parcels, including 5,390 housing units and dislocated more than 18,000 residents.

After the Flood of 2008, the City of Cedar Rapids created a Voluntary Property Acquisition Program to reduce the loss of life and property in future disasters. An estimated 1,200 significantly flood-damaged properties along the Cedar River are eligible for a buyout through this process. The City divided the flood impacted area into three districts: the Greenway Area, the Construction/Study Area and the Neighborhood Revitalization Area.

The acquisitions, flood protection and revitalization of these districts are primarily using two federal funding sources, FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) and HUD's CDBG program. The Greenway Acquisition Area is the unprotected area between the Cedar River and the proposed structural flood management system. There were 192 properties identified in this area as eligible for voluntary property acquisition through FEMA's Hazard Mitigation Grant Program. Parcels acquired through this program must remain open space forever.

In the Construction/Study Area there is a plan to construct structural flood management measures and 554 properties are eligible for voluntary property acquisition through HUD's Community Development Block Grant Program.

In the Neighborhood Revitalization Area, some properties have been determined to be beyond reasonable repair. Housing in this area is significantly damaged and it is not financially feasible to rebuild them. Of 6,452 parcels located in this area, 600 are estimated to be damaged beyond reasonable repair. Between the three areas it is estimated that the cost of acquisition will cost an estimated $175 million.

Impacts: The impact of the 2008 flood left many residents displaced and without housing choice. Typically, in natural disasters low-income residents are disproportionately affected due to limited resources and a lack of insurance to rebuild or relocate. Those in need of affordable housing options prior to the floods were impacted by further limitations of resources due to a shift in resources to assist flood victims.

In the Greenway Acquisition Area the City of Cedar Rapids will lose 192 housing units alone. Time will determine how many more housing units will not be replaced in the flood-affected areas. The City continues to struggle to maintain a quality affordable housing supply despite losing a significant number of units and the loss of years of investment and public funds dedicated to achieving affordable housing demand.

In addition to lost units and investments, this flood has redirected some of the focus of city staff and funds. To a large extent, much of the CDBG program dollars are being diverted from previous community development efforts to deal with more immediate needs as a result of the floods. Currently, Cedar Rapids' is experiencing an imbalance of affordable housing supply verses demand. It may take several years for the city to regain the momentum lost due to the natural disaster.

Remedial Actions: The loss of affordable housing created by the flood makes it impossible for the city to meet the needs created working alone. Partnerships are going to be critical for Cedar Rapids moving into the future. Cedar Rapids should continue to increase partnerships with local developers and non-profit organizations to expand the stock of affordable housing. These partnerships should primarily focus on increasing the production of new affordable housing units and assistance toward the purchase and renovation of housing in existing neighborhoods. Partnerships will assist the city in expanding and leveraging scarce resources. In addition, attention should be placed on capacity building and technical assistance initiatives aimed at expanding non-profit, faith based organizations and private developers' production activities in targeted areas of the city.

In an effort to leverage resources, the City Planning Staff should lead an effort to research and consider a policy change, to encourage affordable housing as a means of promoting balanced housing development in exchange for developer incentives and/or affordable housing funding. Consideration should be given to an inclusionary zoning and development regulation to assist the city with the restocking of the affordable housing supply. Typically, these policies involve placing restrictions on 10% - 30% of new houses or apartments in a given development in order to make the costs of the housing affordable to lower income households. The mix of "affordable" and "market-rate" housing in the same neighborhood is seen as beneficial by many, especially in jurisdictions where housing shortages have become acute. District or program based affordable housing requirements help provide a wider range of housing options than the market provides on its own. Many components must be considered when researching and developing an affordable housing policy whether it is developed for a particular area or as regulations for the entire city.

- Mandatory or voluntary. While many cities and counties mandate affordable housing, many more offer density bonuses, expedited permits, reduced fees, cash subsidies, or other incentives for developers who voluntarily build affordable housing.
- A percentage of units dedicated as affordable housing. This varies quite substantially between jurisdictions, but appears to range between 10-30%.
- Minimum size of development. Most jurisdictions exempt smaller developments, but some require smaller developments to pay a fee in lieu of physically built units.
- Whether affordable housing must be built on the site. Some programs allow the affordable housing to be built nearby, in case of development hardship.
- Whether fees can be paid in lieu of building affordable housing. Fees-in- lieu allow a developer to "buy out" of his/her affordable housing obligation. In some cases the cost of building one affordable unit onsite could purchase several affordable units off-site.
- Income level or price defined as "affordable," and buyer qualification methods. Most polices seem to target low- or moderate-income households, earning 80% of median income or below. It is difficult to create a housing policy for those with very low incomes.
- Appearance and integration of affordable housing units. Many jurisdictions require that affordable housing units be indistinguishable from market-rate units, but this can increase costs.
- Longevity of price restrictions attached to affordable housing units, and allowable appreciation. Policies that allow the "discount" to expire essentially grant a windfall profit to the affordable housing buyer, preventing that subsidy from being recycled to other needy households. Therefore, many programs restrict annual price appreciation, often tying it to inflation plus market value of home improvements, striving to balance the community's interest in long-term affordability with the homeowner's interest in accruing equity over time.

Impediment: Affordability of housing.

Issues: Low and moderate income families are faced with major challenges, as cost and affordability of housing can be major barriers. According to the 2000 Census data, the median home value for single-family houses in the city was $92,900 and the median contract rent was $447. Based on the American Community Survey (ACS) estimates, the median home value in the city increased to $123,600 and the median contract rent was $507 in 2008. The average income required to qualify for a mortgage based on the year 2008 median home price of $123,600 is approximately $35,000 to $40,000. The average income required to qualify for a median contract rent of $507 is approximately $20,000 to $25,000. Home ownership and affordable rental housing is unattainable to many in the city without public subsidies and minorities are disproportionately impacted. Approximately 57 percent of White person households earn $50,000 or greater in annual income. This is contrasted with nearly 25% of the African-American households earning under $15,000 a year and 62.3% of Hispanic households who earn between $25,000 and $49,999 annually. Minority populations are most affected by limited income with 51 percent of African Americans and 43.8 percent of Hispanics earning less than $25,000 in household income, making homeownership nearly impossible for those households.

Despite efforts to build affordable housing through city programs and for profit and nonprofit partnerships, issues remain with the affordability of the housing for many. Age of the housing stock and the condition of housing in older neighborhoods will gradually add to this concern. Typically, there is a direct correlation between the age of housing and the price of the housing unit. Approximately 28 percent of all housing units were built prior to 1950, 15.7 percent were built between 1950 and 1959, 16.1 percent were built between 1960 and 1969, 17.3 percent were built between 1970 and 1979, and 22.6 percent were built after 1979. This means that approximately 77 percent of the housing stock is more than 30 years old, built prior to 1978. These units may contain lead-based paint and are more likely to be in need of repairs and maintenance. Adding to the concern of finding an affordable unit for low-and moderate income residents is the quest to find decent and safe housing.

It is noted that the City of Cedar Rapids makes effort to impact affordable housing needs. The City's Housing Department, through partnerships with non-profit organizations and local builders, has supported the development and financing of affordable housing to qualified buyers. However, these housing initiatives serve a small percentage of the overall needs of the very low, low and moderate-income families and have been further expanded with recent destruction of the flood.

Impacts: Affordable housing impacts the structure and stability of neighborhoods. Income diversified neighborhoods have shown a greater potential to maintain themselves as viable communities. That is, people are most likely to maintain housing they own or when it is their housing of choice. Origination rates throughout Cedar Rapids were lower in low income census tracts when comparing groups with the same income seeking to purchase in high income tracts. This means that minority loan applicants and lower income census tracts that often have higher concentrations of minorities are facing a lack of access to capital for home loan financing. The lack of affordable housing and investment dollars limits housing choice. High percentages of minorities fall into lower income groups.[1] An analysis of household income and cost burden factors suggests that there is a strong need for affordable housing in the city. Without adequate affordable housing options lower income and minority households tend to be cost burdened with regard to their monthly mortgage (principal, interest, taxes, insurance, and utilities) or rent payments.[2]

[1] According to the 2000 Census, Table 2.2 page 19, 4.94 percent of White households, 23.56 percent African-American households, and 7.23 percent of Hispanic households earned less than $15,000 in 2000.

[2] According to Comprehensive Affordability Strategy (CHAS) data, Table 5.7 on page 51 of the Community Profile in year 2000, 66.6 percent of very low-income renter-occupied households are 30% cost burden, and 61.7 percent of very low-income owner-occupied households paid more than 30% of their household income on housing expenses.

Remedial Actions: It is recommended that the City continue to work in partnership with the Chamber of Commerce on workforce housing solutions. Through this relationship a task force can be developed to encourage major employers and lenders to design and implement Employer-Assisted Housing (EAH) programs and to encourage employers to work with employees in their efforts to purchase housing. In some instances, the City and the Chamber will have to help raise the awareness among local employers and increase their understanding that not all wage levels permit ready entry into homeownership, without some sort of subsidy. This is important in that the private sector and employment community often view the use of subsidies to help low to moderate income households achieve homeownership as a public responsibility. In reality, with limited resources, the city government can only assist a small percentage of those in need. The Chamber can play a critical role in researching this issues and encouraging local businesses, the Cedar Rapids Community School District, universities and local hospitals to implement programs for their employees. Employer-Assisted Housing programs benefit employers, employees, and the community. Employers benefit through greater employee retention. Employees receive aid to move into home-ownership. Ultimately, communities benefit though investment in the neighborhoods where the employers and employees are located. The most common benefits provided by employers are grants, forgivable loans, deferred or repayable loans, matched savings, interest-rate buy downs, shared appreciation, and home-buyer education (provided by an employer-funded counseling agency). Successful EAH programs use a combination of some of the benefits listed above. One program that has met with success was developed by the University of Chicago. In 2008, the program had closed on 165 homes and counseled over 450 employees. This program is unique because it has increased the income diversity and housing values in more transitional neighborhoods by encourage employees to invest in housing in revitalizing areas.

BANKING, FINANCE, AND INSURANCE RELATED IMPEDIMENTS

Impediment: Impacts of increased foreclosures and the sub-prime mortgage lending crises.

Issues: The housing foreclosure rates across the country continue to soar and the impacts are being felt in Iowa as well. Numerous web sites are providing numerical counts and locations for homes with foreclosure filings across the country and for jurisdictions in the State of Iowa. RealtyTrac.com listed the State of Iowa as having 5,897 foreclosures for May 2010, Linn County with 729 and Cedar Rapids with 564 for that same period. RealtyTrac.com reports the average sales price of a foreclosure in Cedar Rapids at $83,417. This compares to a state average sales price of $85,240.

The rise in foreclosure rates may be related to both the rise in unemployment rates and the rise and fall of sub-prime lending market. The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported an unemployment rate of 7.4% in March 2010 for Cedar Rapids, an increase over the 5.6 percentage rate reported in March 2009. This meant significant loss of income for a number of households. Sub-prime lending was also a factor with lenders offering loans to less-creditworthy borrowers, borrowers that lack sufficient down-payments and income to afford the property, and risk based borrowers that speculate on the real estate market by acquiring real estate with no equity investment/down-payment in hopes that the property will appreciate in value over a short period of time. These loans were generally offered at higher interest rates or through products involving adjustable interest rates and balloon payments. When the borrower cannot meet the increased mortgage payment they default and the property goes into foreclosure. Neighborhood Housing Services, NHS, and Neighbor Works America are two national housing intermediaries that have created innovative programs in Chicago, Baltimore, and New York City designed to reduce the impacts of foreclosures and sub-prime lending in those affordable housing markets.

Remedial Actions: Create initiatives that reduce mortgage defaults and foreclosure rates among low and moderate income home buyers.

The City should work with National Non-Profit Housing Intermediaries and HUD to develop a program that reduces the mortgage default rate and foreclosure rates among low and moderate income home buyers and existing home owners. The program should consider the following as features of such an initiative.

Develop a loan default prevention program based on providing counseling to affected borrowers, assistance with identifying alternative products that helps borrowers avoid sub-prime lending, and assistance with renegotiation for more favorable terms for borrowers with sub-prime loans. This program would identify government assistance programs that also serve to assist distressed borrowers.
Evaluate the feasibility of creating a maintenance and replacement reserve account for affordable home buyers assisted with the City's federal funds to insure that funds are escrowed to help cover the cost of major repairs.

Evaluate the feasibility of creating a mortgage default and foreclosure prevention account for affordable home buyers assisted with federal funds to insure that funds are escrowed to help cover the cost of unexpected income/job loss and to write down interest rates.

Evaluate the feasibility of creating and implementing post purchase support programs in conjunction with nonprofit development partners to provide housekeeping and preventive maintenance training, and organize neighborhood programming such as associations, crime watch and other initiatives aimed at strengthening and maintaining neighborhood stability.

Impediment: Low number of loan applications from minorities.

Issues: A look at the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act data for Cedar Rapids indicates that the overall experience of minority groups within the home mortgage loan market differs from that of Whites. We recognize that removal of this impediment is not solely within the control of the government, and that finance industry policies, consumer credit worthiness, and economic trends all impact this issue. However, it is important that the City play a dual role of providing programming and leadership that impacts the problem. The disparity between the loan origination rates among White applicants and minorities, and the extent to which the aforementioned factors contribute to denial rates must be addressed. White applicants had the highest number of applications and highest percentage of the population. The number of home purchase loan applications for Whites was 96,730 with an origination rate over 70 percent compared to 1,386 applications and a 52 percent origination rate for African Americans, and 824 applications for Hispanics and an origination rate of just over 50 percent. Origination percentages for all types of home loan applications combined, including refinance and home improvements, were higher for Whites when compared to minority applicants.

Impacts: The lower percentage of loan applications among minority groups and lower income households indicates that fewer minority households are purchasing homes or improving existing housing conditions. Disparity in lending practices could mean that a higher proportion of Hispanic and African American households will also remain renters, thereby limiting the potential for these citizens to build equity through homeownership opportunities. Higher percentages of lower income groups and minority households also tend to live in older housing stock in the city or in multifamily housing. A lack of home improvement loans and a higher percentage of renters among low income households in minority concentrated areas suggest that persons living in such areas are less likely to receive improvements to the home they are living in and are therefore more likely to be living in substandard housing. This leads to the further deterioration of the housing stock and the evolution of minority concentrated neighborhoods. These factors combined reduce the chance that a neighborhood can sustain itself and its residents can provide the homeowner and rental maintenance necessary to maintain stable neighborhoods.

Remedial Actions: Cedar Rapids should increase its homebuyer outreach and education efforts in order to increase the number of minorities who apply for mortgage loans. The City should encourage financial institutions and mortgage companies to expand their homebuyer support services to more people as a means of improving the origination rates among minorities. The City of Cedar Rapids could initiate this recommendation by discussing findings in this study relative to the HMDA data with lending institutions and ask them to develop strategies to improve the success rate among loan applications submitted by minority applicants.

Financial literacy is an important factor in the successful management of personal finances, which sets the stage for all of life's important purchases such as house, car, etc. A well ordered personal budget prepares households to qualify with the best credit terms, eliminates the major obstacles in the home buying process, and enables households to build equity through homeownership. An early start in managing personal finances can prepare an individual for those major purchases. In a 2008 'Parents and Money' survey only one-fifth of parents involve their teens in the family's budgeting and spending decisions. Even fewer teach their teens how to balance a checkbook, and less than one-third explain how credit card interest and fees work. The City of Cedar Rapids should encourage lenders and the Cedar Rapids School System to expand financial literacy classes as part of the high school curriculum in order to help prevent credit problems rather than attempting to correct credit profiles in order to successfully qualify an applicant for a home loan origination.

An example of a software program implemented by the Richardson ISD in Richardson, Texas is the TimeMAPS Money Management and Life Skills Program from Realityworks. This software program is designed to engage students in real-life financial lessons in the classroom. Covering topics such as managing debt and credit, living on a budget and planning for retirement, these lessons prepare students for successful money management as adults.

Impediment: Predatory lending and other industry practices.

Issue: Predatory lending practices continue to be a widespread concern in Cedar Rapids. Anecdotal comments and perceptions were cited, by person interviewed and those attending the focus group sessions, suggesting unfavorable lending practices. The focus group participants' perception is that predatory lenders are replacing banks and other reputable financial institutions as lenders of choice in poor neighborhoods. These perceptions were also supported by a growing number of pay-day loans, check-cashing, and title-loan stores observed in the city. Focus Group participants were also concerned with extremely high interest rates being charged by not only neighborhood predatory lenders, but traditional banks and financial institutions for credit cards, auto loans, and other consumer loans. It should be noted that in some instances, predatory lending is fueled by poor credit rating, limited credit history, or lack of understanding of the borrowers as to alternative lending options.

The focus group participants perceived that predatory lenders are absorbing a market formerly controlled by FDIC insured banks and other reputable financial institutions and fast becoming lenders of choice in some low income and minority concentrated areas. In other instances, persons facing economic hardships are being preyed upon due to their inability to qualify for traditional lending and banking services. For example, predatory businesses provide individuals with loans backed by the title to their car or house at relatively high interest rates. Lenders are quick to foreclose in the event the borrower misses a payment.

Nonprofit organization representatives voiced concern that adequate comparables are sometimes an issue for new homes built and financed utilizing CDBG and HOME program funds, because of the limited number of new homes being built in lower income areas. Appraisers and builders participating in the Focus Group sessions were of the perception that some recent homes, particularly those built in minority concentrated areas are sometimes priced lower than comparable units in other areas due to comparable limitations in industry appraisals. In other instances, participants were concerned with underwriting criteria used by lenders, failure to adjust ratios or provide funding with more favorable terms, or simply the influences of the foreclosure rates and sub-prime lending on mortgage approvals and higher private mortgage insurance for small loans.

Impact: Predatory lending practices often result in a household losing their home, automobile or other collateral. In some cases, Focus Group participants cited instances where homeowners who had already paid off their original mortgage were losing their home when used as collateral on a loan for a small fraction of the home's value. The analysis revealed limited success of minority and lower income applicants in accessing financing from traditional banks and credit unions, and lower approval rates for applicants at all income levels when submitting loan applications to buy property in lower income census tracts. Perceptions of persons contributing to this analysis was that some residents are more likely to utilize the services of sub-prime lenders and check-cashing stores that charge exorbitant interest rates and have severe default penalties. Predatory lending may further impair an individual's credit and monopolize more of a low-income person's monthly income with high interest rates and finance charges, leaving less money for housing and necessities. Some consumers felt that they had little recourse to address adverse industry practices that impact their housing choice.

Remedial Actions: The City of Cedar Rapids should encourage lending institutions to insure that banking services are extended to all low-income census tracts and to provide greater outreach to the low income and minority communities to lessen the use of predatory lenders. The emphasis should be on offering products and services that help establish or reestablish checking, saving, and credit accounts for residents that commonly utilize check cashing services. This may require establishing "fresh start programs" for those with poor credit and previous non compliant bank account practices. Lending institutions should therefore be encouraged to tailor products to better accommodate the past financial deficiencies of low income applicants with credit issues.

The City should encourage the Chamber of Commerce or another local entity to consider establishing a consumer hot line for receiving complaints relative to industry practices cited. Perhaps the consumer hotline function could be a collaborative effort between the City and Chamber.

City Officials should work with the appraisal industry to perform comparability studies to identify real estate comparables that more realistically reflect the values of homes being built in low income areas and areas that have limited product on the ground that can be used for comparison in establishing real estate values.

SOCIO-ECONOMIC IMPEDIMENTS

Impediment: Poverty and low-income among minority populations.

Issues: For many households, low or no income is a major factor preventing their exercise of housing choice. Minority populations in the city as a whole and minority concentrated areas of the city are confronted with even higher percentage of their population living in poverty than Whites. The 2000 Census shows a poverty rate of 6.53 percent for White households, while African Americans and Hispanic households in the city had poverty rates of 28.2 percent and 10.8 percent respectively. Of equal concern is the poverty rate for children under the age of five years. The poverty rate for young children was 43.2 percent for African Americans, 13.9 percent for Hispanic, and 9.2 percent for White children under the age of five. Income for minority populations in the city were also low disproportionate to that of White households. In 2000, 23.6 percent of African American households had incomes below $15,000 compared to 7.23 percent for Hispanics and 4.94 percent for Whites. As some of the lower-income areas revitalize, many homes will be priced above any reasonable rate for purchase or rent by these households. Additionally, as property values rise, minorities' housing choices tend to be even more limited to areas with the oldest housing stock, and in the poorest conditions.

Factors such as family size, education, access to public transportation and job skill levels, and unemployment are also major contributors to the plight of these households.

Impacts: Households experiencing a severe lack of income and those unemployed typically must accept housing in the oldest and sometimes lower income concentrated areas of town. Housing tends to be segregated by income class and sometimes by race or ethnicity, where the housing stock is most likely to be in poor condition, there are higher reported incidents of criminal activity, and opportunities for improving a person's quality of life are low. Children from these households grow up in an environment that sometimes dooms them to replicate their community's living standards, continuing the cycle of poverty for generations to come. Focus group participants voiced a perception that certain areas of the city are home to a disproportionate number of low-income persons, living in substandard multifamily and single family housing developments. Participants indicated that the concentration of poverty is not only a concern with regard to social equity and the plight of renters, but poverty is also having a significant impact on the condition and quality of single family housing in the neighborhoods where there are high concentrations of home owners. In areas where a majority of homeowners cannot afford routine maintenance, poor housing conditions may quickly become the prevalent state of affairs. Lack of job opportunities and lack of sufficient income to afford decent housing were cited as concerns.

Remedial Actions: The Chamber of Commerce should continue to work on expanding job opportunities through the recruitment of corporations, the provision of incentives for local corporations seeking expansion opportunities, assistance with the preparation of small business loan applications, and other activities aimed at reducing unemployment and expanding the base of higher income jobs. A particular emphasis should be to recruit jobs that best mirror the job skills and education levels of those populations most in need of jobs. For Cedar Rapids, this means jobs that support persons with high school education, GED's and in some instances, community college or technical training. The workforce demographics show a need for jobs paying minimum wage to moderate hourly wages. The City should also continue to support agencies that provide workforce development programs and continuing education courses to increase the educational level and job skills of residents. The goal should be to increase the GED, high school graduation, technical training, and college matriculation rates among residents.

Workforce readiness and access will help with the recruitment of industries such as "call centers", clerical and manufacturing jobs. Call centers and customer service centers where employees are recruited to process sales or provide customer service support for various industries, have become more and more attracted to areas with similar demographics to that of Cedar Rapids. The combination of lower priced land, government incentives for relocation and the workforce to support their industries, have all become incentives in recent years.

Cedar Rapids, in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce, should become more active in supporting recruiting industries that match the demographics of the populations most unemployed, as a means of decreasing poverty rates, and increasing incomes and home ownership rates in the city. Recruiting traditional as well as non-traditional industries can assist in increasing the City's tax base while serving to provide the necessary income for more persons to earn a living wage and improve their ability to qualify for home ownership. An example of this is in Blytheville, Arkansas. A former bustling town that was hard hit by the closing of an Air Force base and the mechanical transition of the agricultural cotton industry. Blytheville saw record increases in their unemployment rate. Proactively, the city took advantage of its proximity to the Mississippi River and transportation connections. Today Blytheville has reinvented itself economically and has become the largest steel-producing city in the nation. Seven years ago Mississippi County, where Blytheville is the county seat, had the highest unemployment rate of the state and now has added over 3,000 higher than average paying jobs.

Neighborhood Conditions Related Impediments

Impediment: Limited resources to assist lower income, elderly and indigent homeowners to maintain their homes and stability in neighborhoods.

Issue: While many of Cedar Rapids neighborhoods are relatively stable some neighborhoods are beginning to experience decline. The decline of these neighborhoods will be further exacerbated if routine and preventive maintenance does not occur in a timely manner. The population is aging, which means more households with decreasing incomes to pay for basic needs. This increase in elderly households coupled with the steady rise in the cost of housing and the cost of maintaining housing means that many residents will not be able to limit their housing related cost to 30 percent of household income and still maintain their property. Rental property owners will be faced with increasing rents to pay for the cost of maintenance and updating units rendering rental units unaffordable to households as well. Government programs utilizing HOME and CDBG HUD funding and other sources impact only a small percentage of those in need of assistance. A majority of CDBG funding is being used by flood recovery efforts therefore staff must identify other public financing tools and grant resources to see increased impact in neighborhoods.

Impact: Residents and landlords need to keep pace with the maintenance demands of housing, an aging housing stock. This will enhance and support a healthy neighborhood "Image and Identity" and help attract new residents and retain existing residents and businesses. An essential component of this recommendation will include becoming healthier, sustainable neighborhoods, able to meet the essential quality of life needs of residents and improving the physical character of the neighborhood. In some neighborhoods, these attributes are viewed as negative and uninviting both internally by residents and externally by the community at large. Some neighborhoods are viewed as unsafe and a haven for criminal activities. Whether this is reality or a perception, it has a detrimental effect on the image of the neighborhood either way.

Neighborhood assets must be protected and improved. Structures should be strategically removed if found to no longer contribute to the well being of the community. Maintaining vacant lots, including clearing weed, litter, and junk, and maintaining tree growth, would immediately improve the appearance of neighborhoods. Other amenities such as providing streetscape enhancements in the medians and pedestrian areas along residential streets, adding street lighting, sidewalks, shrubs, and new development on vacant lots, would significantly improve the neighborhoods. Most of all, there is a need to revive the "sense of community and trust" and encourage participation and cooperation from residents to maintain their homes, yards, and surroundings and to actively participate in community empowerment activities such as Crime Watch, neighborhood associations and self help initiatives.

Remedial Actions: The City should design and implement a Centralized Program of Self-Help Initiatives based on volunteers providing housing assistance to designated elderly and indigent property owners and assist them in complying with municipal housing codes. This will require an organized recruiting effort to gain greater involvement from volunteers, community organizations, religious organizations/institutions and businesses as a means of supplementing available financial resources for housing repair and neighborhood cleanups. Increased support from volunteers and community resources will be needed to close the gap between total needs and resources available. Tapping into volunteer and community resources is critical because a large amount of Cedar Rapids' resources are focused on flood recovery.

While there have been successful initiatives of this nature, initiated and funded both by the City of Cedar Rapids and nonprofit agencies, a more comprehensive effort, perhaps coordinated by the City, needs to be designed and implemented that fully utilizes the resources of the community and area businesses. The program would be based on a case management system where the select needs of designated area property owners are matched with volunteer resource teams capable of solving the city code violations and other needed exterior repairs for select properties. Requests for assistance would be received from code enforcement officials, housing program administrators, social service agencies, community institutions, and homeowners. Priority would be given to those owners immediately affected by an active code compliance case, a targeted block or area project, and those with life threatening or uninhabitable conditions.

Eligibility for assistance would require verification of income or status as elderly or disabled. Levels of assistance would be based on the specific needs to be addressed and the ability of the property owners and their families to assist in the effort. The City would fund a Program Coordinator designated to conduct home visits of each program participant, evaluate the appropriateness for volunteers to perform the work, and determine and advise the homeowner of their responsibilities in support of the effort. The Program Coordinator, upon securing a match between volunteers and property owner, would coordinate project dates, materials, supplies, and project support for the day of the project. Again, some of these activities may have been initiated in the past, so in some instances, our recommendations are that activities be continued, offer an enhanced level of programming, or that the City apply for funds as they become available.

Activities that could be considered for the centralized self-help initiatives program include:

- Increase self-help initiatives such as "fix-up," "paint-up," or "clean-up" campaigns and "corporate repair projects". In order to increase resources available for these efforts, neighborhood residents, religious institutions, community organizations, individuals, and corporations would be recruited to participate in the repair to homes occupied by elderly, disabled, and indigent homeowners through organized volunteer efforts involving their members and employees.
- Implement a Youth Build and Repair Program in conjunction with the local school district. Youth Build is a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) program that teaches young people how to build new homes and repair older ones. HUD offers competitive grants to cities and non-profit organizations to help high-risk youth, between the ages of 16 and 24, develop housing construction job skills and to complete their high school education.
- Organize a "Compliance Store" where home builders, building supply stores, merchants, and celebrities, such as radio and television personalities, are used to demonstrate simple, cost effective ways to make improvements to houses and donate building supplies for use in self-help projects. The supplies and storage facility for supplies could be provided to enrollees by building supply stores, contractors, and hardware stores.
- Organize "adopt-a-block" and "adopt-an-intersection" campaigns where neighborhood groups, residents, scout troops, and businesses adopt key vistas and intersections to maintain and implement beautification projects, such as flower and shrub plantings and maintenance.
- Creating Community Gardens as interim uses on select vacant lots provide an opportunity for neighborhood residents to work together to increase the attractiveness of their neighborhood. Formats for community gardens range from attaching simple window boxes to homes along a street reflecting a common theme, coordinating garden planting, or converting a vacant lot that may previously have been an eyesore in the neighborhood into a flower or vegetable garden tended by members of the community. Naturally, ownership of a vacant lot is an issue to be resolved before gardening begins. The City Assessor can provide information on the ownership of the property, including a mailing address. If the lot is privately owned, permission to use the lot must be received from the owner. If the property is owned by the city or expropriated, ownership of the property might be transferred to a local non-profit organization or neighborhood association. While the costs of plant materials and supplies are an important consideration for community gardens, many nurseries and home improvement stores offer discounts for community improvement projects.

AFFORDABLE HOUSING

The City of Cedar Rapids provided CDBG and HOME funding for a number of affordable housing activities during the subject program year. Housing activities by their definition are considered to be high priority according to the Five-Year Consolidated Plan. The following tables show the Five Year Target, the FY12 Accomplishments, and the FY10-FY15 Total Accomplishments and the number and types of households served.

WORST CASE NEEDS AND ACCOMMODATIONS FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

The City of Cedar Rapids Housing Services office makes efforts to address worst case needs and the needs of persons with disabilities. Worst case needs can be defined as lack of subsidized housing for low income persons, disabled persons and the homeless. To address worst case needs Cedar Rapids has a Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher program that is authorized to assist up to 1,265 families per month. The families being assisted include the disabled and the homeless. Under the owner occupied program the City has a policy that provides emergency assistance to add accessibility features to homes of persons with disabilities. This includes, but is not limited to, ramps. The Housing Services Rehab department also has a certified aging in place specialist on staff.

For detailed information concerning the City's housing activities funded through the HOME Investment Partnership Program, please refer to Table 11 - FY10 HOME Projects Including Prior Year Carryovers.

CONTINUUM OF CARE

The Linn County Continuum of Care Planning & Policy Council (CoC PPC) was established in October 2000 as a voluntary advisory group to help prevent and eliminate homelessness in Linn County. Its mission is "To organize and maintain a strategic network of community interests in Linn County, Iowa, that will identify and coordinate housing and services to meet the specific needs of homeless people or those at-risk of becoming homeless." The CoC PPC currently consists of 56 members from a broad array of community interests who are working together to address homelessness and housing issues. The Linn County CoC generally meets on a monthly basis, except for the months of July and December. An average of 32 representatives and alternates, along with four guests, attended its monthly meetings in calendar year 2012.

The CoC PPC is intended to serve as the primary local entity responsible for managing a systematic process designed to provide appropriate transition to independent living. As such, the Council has assumed responsibility for the following tasks:

- Compiling and sharing pertinent data and information on local homelessness, including the identification of:
    - The number of persons being served by local homeless and housing programs;
    - The needs of persons who are homeless or at-risk of becoming homeless;
    - The needs of other special population groups, such as homeless and runaway youth, the frail elderly, persons with HIV/AIDS, victims of domestic violence, homeless veterans, persons with substance abuse and/or mental illness, etc.;
- Conducting inventories of existing facilities and services;
- Prioritizing unmet needs and developing policies and plans, through collaborative partnerships, to most effectively meet those needs, without duplication of effort;

- Coordinating access to available resources in consideration of competing demands;
- Supporting other local homeless and housing initiatives and activities, as appropriate.

Lead agencies for the CoC PPC have included the following:

- Linn County Community Services, which provides primary staff support to the Council;
- United Way of East Central Iowa, which has provided secondary support to the Council; and
- City of Cedar Rapids (Department of Community Development, Housing Services), which has provided secondary support to the Council.

The CoC PPC has been designed to work in cooperation with other lead entities within the continuum, without duplicating efforts. A brief explanation of those entities and their roles and responsibilities is provided below. It should be noted that many of the entities involved in the CoC PPC are also involved in one or more of the other planning bodies. This cross-representation ensures that each entity is kept abreast of what the other planning entities are doing. The Continuum of Care Organizational Structure chart is at the end of this section for reference.

Homeless Outreach Projects Efforts (Hope) Committee

The Hope Committee is an informal network of approximately one dozen homeless, housing, or supportive service providers, including members of the faith community, which meets regularly to discuss issues of concern to providers, share information, and learn about community services and resources. The Hope Committee generally meets monthly, except in July and December.

Linn County Local Homeless Coordinating Board

The Linn County Local Homeless Coordinating Board (LHCB) is the designated body for the coordination of emergency food and shelter resources within Linn County. As such, it acts as a catalyst to facilitate the funding of community resources by:

- Overseeing the local funding process for the Emergency Food and Shelter Program (EFSP).
- Pursuing other funding sources in cooperation with other local entities, as appropriate.
- Facilitating public awareness of homelessness by:
    - Collecting annual shelter and meal data from local homeless assistance providers;
    - Partnering with the CoC in planning, sponsoring, and participating in community education programs relative to homelessness; and
    - Encouraging private sector support and participation in providing homeless services.

The Linn County LHCB consists of 15 members, many of whom are representatives of agencies that are required to participate by the Emergency Food & Shelter National Board. Required participants include the American Red Cross, Catholic Charities, church organizations or ministerial associations, community action program (HACAP), a representative that is currently homeless or formerly homeless, local government (city, county, state), The Salvation Army, United Jewish Communities (not present in the jurisdiction and Temple Judah has declined to participate), and the United Way. In addition, the Linn County LHCB has expanded its membership to include representation from the Abbe Center for Community Mental Health, the Cedar Rapids Community School District, and Linn Community Care (the federally qualified Community Health Center). At a minimum, the Linn County LHCB meets on a quarterly basis, or as needed.

The following Continuum of Care Committees met regularly or periodically in FY12:

- Data Committee
- Freedom from Hunger Planning Team
- Five Seasons Stand Down Planning Committee
- Hearth Academy Workgroup/Coordinated Intake/HPRP
- Sleep-Out for the Homeless Committee.

Activities and accomplishments of these Committees during the past fiscal year included:

- The Data Committee has been involved in a number of ongoing data collection efforts.
    - Biannual Point-in-Time studies were conducted on July 2012 and January 2013. The January 2013 Point-in-Time and Housing Activity Survey was implemented in conjunction with the State of Iowa's Annual Point-in-Time Survey, as required by HUD. Reports include trend data for the past five years.
    - Street counts are also conducted twice annually in conjunction with the biannual Point-in-Time Surveys. Outreach teams consisting of outreach workers from the Abbe Center for Community Mental Health, Linn Community Care and the Veterans Administration, along with a case worker from the Willis Dady Emergency Shelter, conducted the street counts.
- Freedom from Hunger Planning Team activities included organization of the10th Annual Eastern Iowa Freedom from Hunger Community Food Drive, which was conducted during June through August 2012 and included both a community and corporate component. Members participated in events at Cedar Rapids Kernels games and Freedom Festival events in late June and July 2012.
- The Five Seasons Stand Down Committee was responsible for the organization of activities held in conjunction with the 7th Annual Linn County Veterans Stand Down in September 2012. Nearly 150 participants attended this event. Planning for the 2013 event is underway.

- In April 2011, the Continuum of Care sent a team of six members to participate in the Hearth Academy Training held in Des Moines. In addition to those on the Linn County team, two other members participated in the training as members of the "Balance of State Workgroup." Participants developed a work plan to guide community activities in moving towards enacting the principles of the Hearth Act. The CoC continues to work towards implementation of strategies designed to align with the Hearth Act.
- The Sleep-Out for the Homeless Committee planned the 7th Annual Linn County Sleep-Out held in November 2012 during National Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week. This event raised approximately $14,000 for local homeless shelters. Planning for the 2013 event is currently underway.

Following are shelters and transitional housing facilities available in the community. Federal resources obtained from the Homeless SuperNOFA included resources for HACAP's transitional housing and their chronically homeless program.

- Cedar House Shelter – 16 beds
- Foundation 2 Youth Shelter – 4 beds for "voluntary/non-system" youth
- Mission of Hope – 11 beds

- Waypoint Madge Phillips Center – 40 beds
- Willis Dady Emergency Shelter – 44 beds

DESCRIBE OTHER ACTIONS IN STRATEGIC PLAN OR ACTION PLAN TAKEN TO:

The City of Cedar Rapids continues to support affordable housing activities throughout the community in coordination with the neighborhood associations and the non-profit agencies associated with housing activities for transitional and low income individuals/families.

The following is a summary of what Cedar Rapids is doing, or proposed to do, along with other organizations to identify barriers to affordable housing.

ADDRESS OBSTACLES TO MEETING UNDERSERVED NEEDS

The largest obstacle to meeting underserved needs is the lack of funding. With the reduction of CDBG and HOME grants this year it has become even harder to meet the needs of the underserved. In an effort to more effectively use the resources available, Housing Services is updating the Citizen Participation Plan to allow for more rigorous guidelines that will aid in eliciting grant requests that are extremely competitive.

The City of Cedar Rapids administers the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program. The program currently has 1,927 families waiting for rent assistance. The Section 8 program is not accepting new applications at this time. In an attempt to compensate for this obstacle, HOME funds are targeted primarily to organizations proposing projects that serve renters at or below 50% of the Area Median Income (AMI).

The Housing Services office administers HUD's Family Self-Sufficiency Program (FSS) a grant program. This is a voluntary program that provides case management services that include goal-setting and supportive services to Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program participants. During the program period FY 2012 the Family Self-Sufficiency program provided case management to One Hundred Sixty families. The purpose of the FSS program is to coordinate Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher rental assistance with various public and private resources that support and assist families with their goals to become economically self-sufficient.

The goal of the FSS program is to empower participants to achieve economic independence and self-sufficiency. Family Self-Sufficiency program participants also have the opportunity to establish assets in a savings account. The FSS savings account starts after enrollment when a family's rent share increases due to an increase in earned income. In FY 2012 105 FSS participants had positive escrow balances and twenty participants graduated from the FSS program. The total escrow earned by those twenty FSS graduates was $90,210.00 and the average escrow disbursed per graduate was $4,510.00. In FY 2012 three families transitioned from rent assistance to unsubsidized homeownership.

FOSTER AND MAINTAIN AFFORDABLE HOUSING

The City of Cedar Rapids uses Community Development Block Grant funds to rehabilitate single family homes for households that meet the low to moderate income restrictions. The rehabilitation program has three components: comprehensive rehabilitation, emergency assistance, and roof repair assistance. By assisting low to moderate income homeowners with repairs, affordable housing is maintained and preserved.

ELIMINATE BARRIERS TO AFFORDABLE HOUSING

The City offers first time homebuyer assistance with HOME funds. This assistance can provide up to $6,000 in down payment and reasonable and customary closing costs. Households must meet low to moderate income restrictions and be a first time homebuyer. This assistance provides an increase in access to affordable housing.

Another increase in access to affordable housing is the award of HOME funds to assist in either rehabilitation or new construction of units for low- to moderate-income tenants.

OVERCOME GAPS IN INSTITUTIONAL STRUCTURES AND ENHANCE COORDINATION

The Linn County Continuum of Care Planning & Policy Council identifies community needs and resources available. A guide to resources is created in partnership with other community groups and made available to the public through service providers and online.

The City of Cedar Rapids actively seeks partnering with others. Examples of partnerships are administering the HPRP grant with Waypoint and administering the Lead Hazard Control with Linn County Public Health.

IMPROVE PUBLIC HOUSING AND RESIDENT INITIATIVES

The City of Cedar Rapids does not have public housing and, as a result, does not have a public housing authority. However, the City Council is authorized to administer Section 8 Housing Choice Vouchers that are awarded by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The Community Development Department's Housing Services staff administers this program. The Resident Advisory Board meets regularly and provides input for the Annual PHA Administrative Plan.

EVALUATE AND REDUCE LEAD-BASED PAINT HAZARDS

Linn County Public Health (LCPH) Healthy Homes and Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program (HHCLPPP) conducts blood lead screening and medical/environmental case management for any Linn County child under the age of six years with an elevated blood lead level. All blood lead testing data for Linn County is also tracked and maintained by the HHCLPPP. The Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program, recently renamed HHCLPPP due to funding, has been awarded federal grant funds through the Iowa Department of Public Health (IDPH) for 21 years. With the recent funding cuts to the Center for Disease Control the HHCLPPP now receives a reduced amount of funds from the State. Although the funding continues to be reduced the incidence rate continues to exceed the national average. Statistics shown here are from IDPH and are based on birth cohorts so that any test done on a child within the first 72 months is incorporated into the data. The most current data for Linn County shows that 97.5% of the children born in 2005 were tested for lead poisoning before the age of six years. Of those tested, 2.5% were identified with an elevated blood lead level which exceeds the national level of 1.6%.

The partnership between the City of Cedar Rapids and LCPH HHCLPPP was established over twenty years ago and continues today. One area in which the partnership continues is with the Section 8 Program in which the HHCLPPP provides assistance in determining if participants have an elevated blood lead (EBL) child.

The partnership has also been enhanced through three Lead Hazard Control Grants awarded by the Department of Housing and Urban Development to the City of Cedar Rapids. These grant awards totaled over six million dollars for lead hazard control within the City of Cedar Rapids. These grants focused on a specified target area that included the Community Development Block Grant core neighborhoods where the oldest and most deteriorated housing stock is located. Through these grants 486 units were made lead safe, 448 education and outreach events were conducted, and 1,953 individuals were trained in lead safe work practices, lead abatement, and lead safe renovation. These grant awards have brought primary prevention efforts to the community and provided lead safe housing for families with children under the age of six years. In addition, the grants provided training opportunities for contractors which in turn created a trained and knowledgeable contractor pool for the grant projects and community. Maintenance and monitoring was an important part of grant activities. Once the project was completed and cleared the property owner and tenant, if applicable, met with the Environmental Health Specialist from LCPH to discuss the maintenance and monitoring of the property. This grant activity provided information to property owners so that they were able to monitor areas where lead based paint was identified and know how to maintain those surfaces. Annual monitoring continues on the last projects from the previous grant through 2014.

Application efforts for the Lead Hazard Control Grants have been a partnership between City Housing Services and LCPH HHCLPPP. In 2011 and 2012 applications were submitted with no success. However in February 2013 an application was once again submitted which resulted in a 2.4 million dollar grant award. On August 1, 2013 the three year grant period will begin in which 125 units will be made lead safe, 30 trainings for contractors will be held, and grant staff from City and LCPH HHCLPPP will participate in 90 education and outreach events. The grant will again have Housing Services and LCPH HHCLPPP co-administering the grant with Hawkeye Area Community Action Program (HACAP) and Affordable Housing Network Inc. (AHNI) as sub grantees. HACAP will also be providing two lead safe relocation units for this grant program. Memorandums of Understanding will be written for each relocation unit which define fair market rent, maintenance, cleaning, and yard/shoveling upkeep.

The City and LCPH HHCLPPP continue to build a trained and knowledgeable work force within the community by providing the Iowa Lead Safe Renovator Initial and Refresher training. The City of Cedar Rapids Housing Services is an approved trainer with three State approved instructors. One of the instructors is the Lead Program Coordinator from LCPH HHCLPPP who also serves as the training manager. Classes are taught by the training manager and the City's Housing and Healthy Homes Specialist usually once a month during the year. These trainings are open to the general public but typically contractors are the main attendees with some landlords and maintenance individuals also in attendance. Over this past fiscal year ending June 30, 2013, a total of 62 individuals have attended training.

ENSURE COMPLIANCE WITH PROGRAM AND COMPREHENSIVE PLANNING REQUIREMENTS

During FY12, the City monitored all CDBG programs on a continual basis to facilitate program compliance, timely project completion, and to provide opportunities for dialogue with sub recipients. Monitoring strategies were implemented consistent with those specified in the City's 2010-2015 Consolidated Plan.

When required for new development, City departments coordinate to ensure the proposed new land use is reviewed and is consistent with existing Comprehensive Plan requirements. A project review team meets on an ongoing basis to ensure coordination.

Prior to CDBG or HOME rehabilitation projects beginning and also throughout the process, on-site inspections are preformed to ensure that applicable code standards are met. When the rehabilitation is completed, a final inspection is performed. If deficiencies are found they are noted and the property owner is given a specified time frame in which to make the needed repairs or replacements. Completed HOME funded rental housing rehabilitation activities receive ongoing inspections that are completed every three years or with greater frequency as necessary per the HOME Rule.

REDUCE THE NUMBER OF PERSONS LIVING BELOW THE POVERTY LEVEL

One strategy to reduce distressed households is by increasing their earned income through improved employment and training, assisted shelter, and supportive services such as child care or transportation. Other activities may include home ownership initiatives, counseling for money management skills, etc. The progression of these activities often takes time, but allows the low income household to move from a dependent state to an independent one.

The Family Self Sufficiency (FSS) Program administered through the Housing Services office helps families as they seek to increase their income and reduce their dependence upon public assistance programs. In FY12, twenty participants graduated from the program.

LEVERAGING RESOURCES

The City of Cedar Rapids uses these methods of leveraging resources in order to produce additional resources for its affordable housing programs.

- A 1% contribution is required from each first time home buyer for down payment assistance. This allows the first time home buyer to have greater initial equity in the home and gives the City of Cedar Rapids the flexibility in distributing program funding dollars to greater numbers of those in need. The first time home buyer must also agree to a lien being placed on the property for the amount of assistance received. The lien is on a descending scale so that twenty percent (20%) is reduced each year that the homeowner remains in the home. The lien is in effect until the property is vacated, sold, or rented, at which time the remaining amount must be repaid. By doing this, the City has enabled more low income persons and families to become first time homebuyers while maintaining the capability to recover the costs at a future date. During this FY12 year, the City of Cedar Rapids assisted 42 homebuyers through this program.
- Comprehensive homeowner rehabilitation activities also require a lien being placed on the property for the amount of assistance received. The rehabilitation lien is on a descending scale so that ten percent (10%) is reduced each year that the homeowner remains in the home. If owners sell the property or cease to use it as a primary residence, a portion of the original assistance must be repaid. After ten years, the lien will expire and the balance will be zero. Comprehensive homeowner rehabilitation also has a contribution requirement based on income. Households making between 0% and 50% of area median income will contribute 1% to rehabilitation costs. Households making between 51% and 70% of area median income will contribute 10% to rehabilitation costs. Households making between 71% and 80% of area median income will contribute 20% to rehabilitation costs.

The City of Cedar Rapids has determined that having the property owner or purchaser included financially in the home purchase or rehabilitation yields a positive two-fold result that facilitates an expansion of the funding for affordable housing activities and encourages the property owner or purchaser to become more responsible.

The non-profit agencies that work with affordable housing activities have leveraged funding through various sources that include:

- Sponsors, banks and savings and loan companies, are involved in the first time home buyer classes that are offered
- Federal Home Loan Bank Grant
- State of Iowa ESGP Grant
- State of Iowa Department of Economic Development
- Housing Shelter Operations Grant
- Linn County Human Resources
- United Way
- Cash and Equipment Donations
- Participant Fees
- Mortgage Companies for First Mortgages
- Banks for Construction Loans
- Sale of Tax Credits

Matching fund requirements included funds from fair market rent, below market interest rates on bank mortgages and construction loans and tax exempt bond financing. Please see the HOME Match Report section for details.

CITIZEN COMMENTS

A notice was published in The Gazette newspaper on September 12, 2013 to announce the public review period for the City's Consolidated Annual Performance Evaluation Report (CAPER). The review period was September 12 – September 27, 2013.

SELF-EVALUATION

The City of Cedar Rapids continues to make progress toward impacting identified needs through its strategy of applying programs, projects, and activities with the given monetary and human resources available. Indicators of the City's success include sustained public-private partnerships, continued production and maintenance of affordable housing stock and provision of assistance to under-served populations, such as youth and the elderly.

The net effects of these programs, projects, and activities help to strengthen neighborhoods and communities by providing increased essential services and by maintaining existing housing stock. By supporting area service organizations, with staffing and facility improvement funds, the community as a whole benefits with increased essential services. Issues of blight and unsafe housing conditions are remedied through rehabilitation funds.

Perhaps the greatest indicator of the City's capacity to effectively administer the CDBG and HOME programs is the timeliness of expenditures. The City tracks the timeliness of both CDBG and HOME entitlement funding expenditures, as it represents the City's ability to effectively administer projects and successfully monitor the projects of sub-recipients. Though the overall expenditures are timely, the City continually monitors the progress of each activity to identify potential administrative obstacles to meeting the proposed objectives.

The most significant barrier to fulfilling strategies and achieving the overall vision is always the lack of funding. Every year the City's needs exceed the amount of CDBG and HOME funds awarded.

Staff within the Community Development department continues to look for ways to increase efficiency in the areas of program administration and monitoring. Additionally, staff continues to seek out related training opportunities in order to increase capacity.

Information on accomplishments by project and objective are listed in the following tables.

MONITORING

The City of Cedar Rapids monitors its funded activities through ongoing project oversight and technical assistance to subrecipients. A Housing Rehabilitation Specialist is dedicated to subrecipient project management, and is integrally involved in these projects to ensure that federal requirements are discussed early, monitored during implementation, and subsequently followed.

Staff performs onsite visits as per the City's Monitoring Plan. Monitoring subrecipients will permit both the City and subrecipients to stay qualified to receive future grants. There are three main goals to monitoring:

- Ensure production and accountability
- Ensure compliance with CDBG, HOME, and other federal requirements
- Evaluate the subrecipients organizational and project performance

Monitoring is an excellent time to encourage the sharing of positive feedback on processes that are effective. Training and technical questions can be addressed also. This is also an opportunity to build a positive relationship between the City and subrecipients.

PROGRAM NARRATIVES

In addition to onsite visits, funded activities are monitored through quarterly and monthly reports that sub-recipients are required to submit. Reports were submitted for open activities each quarter and month during FY12. This enabled the City to gauge progress and identify any delays. The City also monitors progress of its own expenditures through an internal monthly status report, to ensure that it is in compliance with the timeliness ratio for expenditures of CDBG funds. The City met all the requirements for timely expenditures in FY12.

ASSESSMENT OF RELATIONSHIP OF CDBG FUNDS TO GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The City uses its CDBG grant to fund projects and activities that meet the priorities, needs, goals, and specific objectives identified in the Consolidated Plan. While the highest priority is given to housing, projects and activities for youth, elderly, health, safety, and welfare also rate high. Of the 14 grants awarded to sub-recipients 6 were for these high priorities.

To meet the goals for providing affordable housing one subrecipient CDBG grant and one City program was awarded to improve existing housing stock for low to moderate income persons and households. These grants provided 48 aging services & housing owner occupied rehab owner occupied households with rehabilitation assistance including carryover from FY11 grants.

Other funding considerations are administrative capacity which is needed to allow for implementation and the statutory limitations such as the 15% cap on public services.

For detailed information on CDBG-funded activities and their relation to priorities, needs, and goals, please refer to Tables 10A-D – Summary of CDBG Assisted Projects.

CHANGES IN PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The FY12 CDBG allocations met the needs, priorities, and objectives of the City as identified in the Consolidated Plan therefore there were no changes made to program objectives during FY12.

ASSESSMENT OF EFFORTS IN CARRYING OUT PLANNED ACTIONS

The City of Cedar Rapids applied for Community Development Block Grant and Home Investment Partnership funding in order to have funds to carry out the planned actions described in the Consolidated Plan. Possible program income was monitored and also used to carry out activities.

Certifications of Consistency were provided to sub-recipients when requested as long as the additional HUD programs being utilized were consistent with the City's Consolidated Plan.

The City did not hinder Consolidated Plan implementation by action or willful inaction as is exemplified by the assessment of goals and objectives in this report. Progress is shown in attached tables. The City carried out activities in accord with its Annual Action Plan. Upon request the City considers proposals to amend projects or activities when the amendment best meets the needs of the community.
In limited instances, where timely implementation of a project or activity is not demonstrated, and is not delayed due to a justified reason, action is pursued for reassignment so funds may be utilized more effectively and efficiently. No funds were recaptured for lack of performance in FY12.

USE OF CDBG FUNDS FOR NATIONAL OBJECTIVES

This component of the City's Year-End Report is not applicable as all funding in FY12 was used exclusively to address national objectives and 100% of CDBG funding benefited low to moderate income persons or households.

ANTI-DISPLACEMENT AND RELOCATION

The City adopted an Anti-displacement and Relocation Assistance Plan on April 18, 1990, that was amended on December 9, 2009. According to this Plan, the City's policy is to avoid utilizing funds provided by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to undertake acquisition, rehabilitation, and/or demolition of occupied properties, such that displacement would result. The Plan specifically identifies the following three steps to minimize displacement:

- continuation of the Housing Code Enforcement Program to maintain property in a safe, decent, and sanitary condition;
- provision of financial assistance to maintain property in a safe, decent, and sanitary condition and advisory services to guide work in stages to avoid displacement during the rehabilitation; and
- consideration will be given to alternatives and other applicable mitigation efforts, in order to avoid the necessity of property acquisition.

Should displacement be required, the Plan specifies that policies and procedures are subject to the requirements of the Uniform Relocation Act (URA) or Section 104(d) of the 1974 Community Development Act, as amended. This includes identifying potentially displaced households, businesses, farms, or nonprofit organizations through a thorough investigation of property ownership records from the City Assessor's Office. Then, the timely delivery of mandatory informational notices would be forwarded to the appropriate parties. There were no activities triggered the Uniform Relocation Act in FY12.

LOW/MOD JOB ACTIVITIES

The City did not undertake any economic development activities in FY12.

LOW/MOD LIMITED CLIENTELE ACTIVITIES

The City had nineteen subrecipients that undertook limited clientele activities that were not in a presumed limited clientele category or chose to report income data even though they were in a presumed income category that demonstrated low or moderate income (see Table 7). Each of these subrecipients were required to verify that beneficiaries were low to moderate income based upon the Section 8 Part 5 income definition and submit quarterly reports to the City that show the beneficiary income data.

HOME INVESTMENT PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM NARRATIVE

ASSESSMENT OF RELATIONSHIP OF HOME FUNDS TO GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The Consolidated Plan Five Year Strategy established goals and objectives that the City of Cedar Rapids, through its Department of Community Development, Housing Services Division, has worked to achieve. The goals established were to:

- Provide housing and housing services to the homeless through a continuum of care offering emergency shelter, transitional housing, and permanent housing assistance as well as other services guiding the homeless and other special needs population back to independence and self-sufficiency
- Assist low and very low income households find affordable housing through the use of tenant-based and project-based housing assistance
- Preserve the stock of affordable housing through rehabilitation of the existing rental and owner-occupied housing stock and thus helping to reduce lead-based paint hazards
- Increase the supply of affordable housing
- Improve the City's neighborhoods through a variety of community and economic development strategies serving to reduce crime, attract and retain jobs, improve the City's infrastructure and other facilities, and provide public services
- Coordinate and enhance efforts to reduce poverty
- Reduce the regulatory barriers to the development of affordable housing
- Eliminate impediments to fair housing

The HOME Program was created with these objectives:

- Provide decent affordable housing to lower income households
- Expand the capacity of nonprofit housing providers
- Strengthen the ability of state and local governments to provide housing
- Leverage private sector participation

During the FY12 annual budgeting process, activities were prioritized in relation to the priority rankings in the Five-Year Consolidated Plan.

Throughout the FY12 Program Year, the City has undertaken and/or continued activities that were intended to address the goals and objectives as shown. The City of Cedar Rapids tries to accomplish these goals on an on-going basis, utilizing the CDBG and HOME funding in the most appropriate and timely manner available, to benefit the greatest number of persons.

For detailed information related to HOME activities undertaken in FY12 along with their relation to needs, goals, and objectives, progress toward affordable housing goals, and the extent to which funds were used to benefit extremely low income, low income, and moderate income persons please refer to Table 11 – FY12 HOME Projects Including Prior Year Carryover.

HOME MATCH REPORT

Match contributions for this reporting year have exceeded the requirements for the match liability. The HUD-40107-A HOME Match Report details both sources of match and tax exempt bond financing match information. It can be found in the Appendix. Below are the sources of match for FY12.

HOME ASSESSMENTS

RESULTS OF ON-SITE INSPECTIONS OF AFFORDABLE RENTAL HOUSING

On-site inspections occur prior to the rehabilitation, as well as throughout the rehabilitation process. When the rehabilitation is completed, the final inspection is performed by Housing Services as well as by the City's Code Enforcement Division if any permits were required, and the work must meet all local codes as well as minimum Housing Quality Standards.

Inspections of HOME-funded rehabilitation activities for rental housing are completed every three years (at minimum) and with greater frequency as necessary, as per the HOME Rule and the City's Monitoring Plan.

HOME JURISDICTION'S AFFIRMATIVE MARKETING ACTIONS

Non-discrimination and equal opportunity are two commitments made by the City of Cedar Rapids to its affordable housing programs. Procedures to affirmatively market units that have been rehabilitated or assisted under the HOME Program are intended to further the objectives of Executive Order 11063 and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968. The City's belief is that persons and families of similar economic levels should have housing choices available to them regardless of their race, color, religion, sex, familial status, handicap, or national origin. To that end, the City distributes materials and literature provided by the Civil Rights Commission in its office and reaches out to all eligible applicants, without regard to race, color, religion, sex, familial status, handicap, or national origin, by conducting outreach through its partner agencies, and committees, such as the Continuum of Care, that work with underserved populations. Housing Services displays the Fair Housing poster in its offices and includes the EHO logo in program literature. Owners of properties receiving HOME funds are required to adopt affirmative marketing strategies as well.

OUTREACH TO MINORITY AND WOMEN OWNED BUSINESSES

The City of Cedar Rapids strives to promote participation by minority and women owned contractors and businesses in all HOME projects and activities. The City remains in accordance with Executive Orders 11625 and 12432 concerning minority business enterprises and Executive Order 12138 concerning women's business enterprises. In addition, the City implements 24 CFR Part 85.36(e) which outlines the actions to be taken to assure that minority business enterprises and women-owned business enterprises are used whenever possible in the procurement of property and services.

Advertising to attract contractors has been undertaken in FY12 in the local paper and shopper, as well as through flyers and marketing to the local homebuilder's association to reach out to additional minority and women-owned contracting businesses. The City maintains a membership in the homebuilders association and uses it as a forum for further outreach to minority and women owned contractors and businesses. Information is provided on an ongoing basis to all contractors who may be interested and their names and businesses are included in our contractor listing for project bidding. It should be noted, however, that the majority of funds expended in FY12 were for down payment assistance, which would not yield opportunities for a significant number of contracting activities under the HOME program.

Please see Part III of HUD Form 40107: Minority Business Enterprises (MBE) and Women Business Enterprises (WBE) located in the Appendix.

Annual Performance Report
HOME Program

U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development
Office of Community Planning and Development

OMB Approval No. 2506-0171
(exp. 8/31/2009)

Public reporting burden for this collection of information is estimated to average 2.5 hours per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. This agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless that collection displays a valid OMB control number.

The HOME statute imposes a significant number of data collection and reporting requirements. This includes information on assisted properties, on the owners or tenants of the properties, and on other programmatic areas. The information will be used: 1) to assist HOME participants in managing their programs; 2) to track performance of participants in meeting fund commitment and expenditure deadlines; 3) to permit HUD to determine whether each participant meets the HOME statutory income targeting and affordability requirements; and 4) to permit HUD to determine compliance with other statutory and regulatory program requirements. This data collection is authorized under Title II of the Cranston-Gonzalez National Affordable Housing Act or related authorities. Access to Federal grant funds is contingent on the reporting of certain project-specific data elements. Records of information collected will be maintained by the recipients of the assistance. Information on activities and expenditures of grant funds is public information and is generally available for disclosure. Recipients are responsible for ensuring confidentiality when public disclosure is not required.

This form is intended to collect numeric data to be aggregated nationally as a complement to data collected through the Cash and Management Information (C/MI) System. Participants should enter the reporting period in the first block. The reporting period is October 1 to September 30. Instructions are included for each section if further explanation is needed.

PR 26 Adjustment Narratives

Line Item 7

Line 7 is an adjustment for the current year PI since IDIS doesn't pick up the correct amount for this report. Total PI is calculated from the following Grant Year 2012 receipts for PI with amounts (total of $73,201.76):

10,597.57	5087746
16,101.36	5091235
15,683.25	5094790
9,124.05	5097569
5.00	5102746
50.00	5104403
9,884.85	5107307
11,755.68	5112739

One PI Receipt was entered for 2011 after 6/30/2012 for the amount of $13,383.23. The PI for $11,755.68 was entered for 2012 after 6/30/2013. This accounts for the adjustment amount when $13,383.23 is subtracted out, and $11,755.68 is added in to receive $(1,627.55) which is Line 7. Line 5 + Line 7 = $73,201.76 which is the total PI for PY12. Adjustment is made annually.

Line Item 34

Line 34 is an adjustment for the prior year PI since IDIS doesn't pick up the correct amount for this report. Line 33 + Line 34 = $32,326.39 which is the total PI for PY11. This is the same adjustment that was on the PY11 report on Line 7 and Line 44. Adjustment is made annually.
