

LEAD-PAINT HARMS KIDS

Children exposed to lead-based paint or contaminated dust can have:

- ▶ Reduced IQ
- ▶ Developmental delays
- ▶ Learning disabilities
- ▶ Impaired hearing

The number of kids in Iowa with elevated blood lead levels is greater than the national average. Any children who spend a lot of time in homes with lead-based paint are at risk. The greatest concern is for children under age 6.

Get your children tested for lead-paint exposure.

HAZARD HUNTERS

BE A HAZARD HUNTER

You can keep kids safe from lead-based paint.

- ▶ Look for signs of chipping and peeling paint in your home
- ▶ See if you live in a Danger Zone
- ▶ It's everyone's job to be a Hazard Hunter

It costs nothing to find out if your home qualifies for low-cost or no-cost lead-paint solutions. Visit CRHazardHunters.com or call 319-286-5872 today.

KEEPING KIDS SAFE FROM LEAD-BASED PAINT

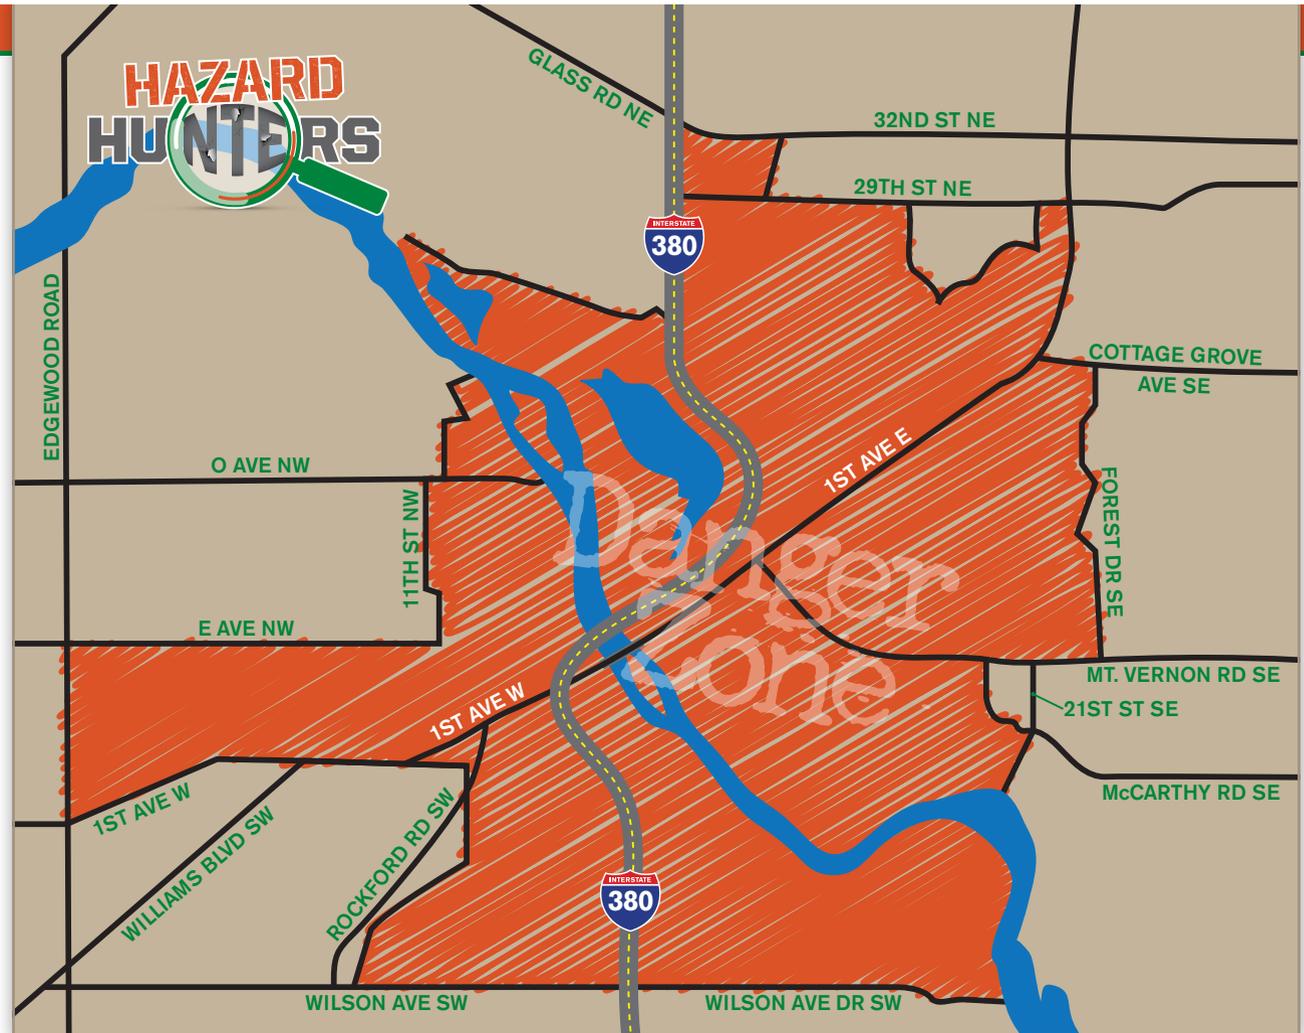

IS YOUR HOUSE SAFE?

Your home is more likely to have lead-based paint if:

- ▶ It was built before 1978
- ▶ It is located within the Danger Zone shown on this map
 - ▶ An area roughly bound by 11th Street, E Avenue and Edgewood Road NW; 1st Avenue W; Rockford Road and Wilson Avenue SW; J Avenue, I-380, 32nd Street and 29th Street NE; 1st Avenue E; Forest Drive; 19th Street and 15th Avenue SE

HELP FOR YOUR HOME

The City of Cedar Rapids and Linn County Public Health have a program that can help you find and fix lead-paint problems for little or no cost to you. There is a grant that can help both homeowners and landlords. If you live in a Danger Zone, you might qualify – especially if children under 6 live with you. Plus, it's FREE to find out if you are eligible.

Thanks to a Lead Hazard Control Grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), we can help those who qualify with:

- ▶ Inspection costs
- ▶ Improvement costs
- ▶ Healthy Homes assessments and education
- ▶ Relocation assistance during repairs

Homeowners and landlords:

It costs nothing to find out if you're eligible.
